

SPRING-SUMMER '26

DOG'S drifter

A gentle tide along the shore,
Soft waves calling evermore.
Morning air both cool and bright,
Clouded skies with silver light.

Through long grasses bending slow,
Over dunes where sea winds blow.
Boardwalk steps in quiet line,
Salt and sunlight intertwine.

The scent of sea upon the breeze,
Distant cries of drifting gulls.
Colours shifting green to blue,
Sun breaks softly breaking through.

Across the bay the horizon clears,
Open space both wide and near.
Stand a moment, take it in,
Let the quiet settle within.

Light layers worn against the air,
Easy steps with time to spare.
Winding paths and open land,
The day unfolds just as you planned.

Walk unhurried, wander free,
Follow paths beside the sea.
No rush now, no need to run,
The journey moves with sea and sun.
